

DR. GOODHEART 'S AK "STORIES" REVEALED
SEMINAR NOW AVAILABLE ON DVDs

On April 10-11, 1999, there was a unique and exceptional seminar in Detroit, Michigan. Dr. George Goodheart accompanied by Dr. Walter Schmitt taught a two day program entitled "the hiSTORIES of AK." The seminar was a remarkable presentation of history, healing, humor, and humanness, unlike any other seminar ever presented.

On Saturday, Dr. Goodheart reviewed the history of AK from its beginnings in 1964 and its development up through about 1980 when he was appointed to the US Olympic team medical staff and served at the Lake Placid Olympic Games.

On Sunday, Dr. Goodheart discussed his father's influence and his early days of practice prior to the discovery of muscle testing as the diagnostic entity we know today. During the weekend he also covered a potpourri of clinical observations from throughout his career including his experiences in the obstetric and orthopedic surgical theaters.

Dr. Goodheart's stories, many of which were never before told publicly, included the numerous serendipitous occurrences which furthered the development of AK. They were fascinating as well as enlightening. The wealth of doctor-patient interactions that were shared was priceless. Many were hysterically funny (including the famous "Colonic Irrigation" story); others touching. The doctors and students who attended got a taste of the healing philosophy which has driven AK from its inception to the present day. It is a must-see for any clinician, AK or otherwise.
